Amicus

amicus
the union

You're Never Too Old to Learn!

That was the message as Amicus Learning Representatives took an active part in the promotion of Learning at Work day on 25 May 2006. In fact Amicus representatives in Coventry were so enthused they also held an additional event the previous week on 17 May.

AXA Centre Street Fair

In Bristol a street fair was held in the AXA Centre on 25 May, organised jointly by HR and the Amicus Union Learning Representatives (ULR's). There were stalls promoting a variety of activities such as Target Zone membership. Amicus ULR Anita Carr arranged the attendance of both St John's Ambulance and a Salsa dancing representative.

A score of people registered an interest in learning activities at the Amicus Learning Rep stall, including a healthy interest in the Conversational Spanish course currently being arranged by our ULR's.

(Pictured are Amicus Learning Representatives Alan Toye and Amanda Davidson giving out information).

Amicus Learning at Work Day promotions also took place in Lytham and Bolton and there will be an event in Morecambe during June.

Coventry promotions of Learning at Work and Adult Learning

Employees at Coventry found the two days on 17 and 25 May to be enjoyable and informative. Some people found out that there are useful courses available to them with Learning and Development within AXA

Some new members signed up to join Amicus and several people expressed an interest in becoming Union Reps.

The range of learning opportunities represented included:

- Coventry University and Henley College.
- The chance to sign up for BBC courses
- A Golf putting competition organised by the John Reay Golf Centre
- AXA Football and Cricket club representatives
- St John's Ambulance First Aid Courses, which proved very popular.

Find out more about the available Learning options by contacting one of the Amicus Learning Reps listed on our web site. AXA specific information is also available on the HR Training and Development Intranet.

www.axa-amicus.org.uk