Changing of the Guard: New Official for AXA

With effect from 1 November 2008 Dave Kennedy takes over from Hugh Jones-Glass as the Unite Official with responsibility for AXA in the UK.

Dave was first appointed as a full time Regional Officer in 2003 after a 5 year stint as a Seconded Representative in Lloyds TSB. Dave has an MA in Industrial Relations which he achieved at Keele University. For the last 5 years Dave has looked after Lloyds TSB on a national basis and also had a regional portfolio in the North West.

Dave is looking forward to the challenge of looking after the interests of Unite members in AXA. Dave says "We currently live in challenging times and I will endeavour to do my utmost to protect and improve the lives of Unite members in AXA".

Farewell Hugh!

After 17 years of dealing with various parts of AXA in his capacity as an official with the Union through it's incarnations as MSF, Amicus and then Unite, Hugh Jones-Glass is taking retirement with effect from 31 October 2008.

Amongst the farewell gifts presented to Hugh was an engraved Bristol glass goblet from the AXA Unite union representatives.
